LEADERSHIP SKILLS FOR LAW ENFORCEMENT

Hosted By:

Hosted By: Utah POST

Why do you need leadership training?

Many would argue that the best leaders are born. While you can be born with some leadership traits, the best leaders build upon those traits by challenging themselves and building their knowledge base.

How is this training different?

We believe that the best leaders use empathy when making decisions and follow a servant leader philosophy. Those leaders implement a culture of accountability that allows everyone in the chain of command to be held responsible for their actions and decisions. Our program will help you improve the skills you have as well as introduce new skills that will help you lead with empathy and always make he right decisions.

Who should attend?

This training is geared towards law enforcement officers, correctional officers, current supervisors, officers who want to be supervisors, and command staff personnel.

Who are we?

Lyons Hale, an active police officer and negotiator, and Dr. Jacque Phillips, DNP, RN, an expert on emotional intelligence, founded Juliet Lima Solutions to help people improve their leadership skills, learn to de-escalate volatile situations, and to introduce skills that can be used to improve their emotional intelligence.
